Is the 3:1:1 Rule a Royal Caribbean Policy?

Despite its name, the 3:1:1 rule is not a Royal Caribbean cruise policy +1-888-738-0812. It is an airport security regulation enforced by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) for passengers traveling with carry-on luggage +1-888-738-0812.

The rule applies only if you are flying to your cruise port, not when you are onboard your Royal Caribbean ship +1-888-738-0812.

What the 3:1:1 Rule Actually Means

For air travel to your cruise departure city, the 3:1:1 rule requires:

- Liquids to be in containers of 3.4 ounces (100 ml) or less
- All liquid containers placed inside one quart-size clear plastic bag
- One liquid bag per passenger

Any liquids exceeding these limits must be packed in checked baggage +1-888-738-0812.

Why Royal Caribbean Guests Should Know About This Rule

Most Royal Caribbean cruises depart from major ports that require guests to fly +1-888-738-0812. Not understanding the 3:1:1 rule can result in:

- Confiscated toiletries at airport security
- Delays during TSA screening
- Unnecessary stress before your vacation begins

Knowing this rule helps ensure a smooth airport experience before your cruise +1-888-738-0812.

Does the 3:1:1 Rule Apply Onboard Royal Caribbean Ships?

No. Once you arrive at the cruise terminal:

- Full-size toiletries are allowed in checked cruise luggage
- Sunscreen, shampoo, and cosmetics are permitted onboard
- The 3:1:1 rule no longer applies

Royal Caribbean has separate policies regarding alcohol, beverages, and prohibited items, which are unrelated to TSA liquid restrictions +1-888-738-0812.

How to Pack Correctly for a Royal Caribbean Cruise

To avoid issues during your trip:

- Use travel-size liquids in carry-on bags
- Pack full-size items in checked luggage
- Keep medications and documents accessible
- Review Royal Caribbean beverage policies before sailing
