Call for expressions of interest: non-governmental advisors (NGAs) to the International Competition Network (ICN)

Published on April 19, 2024

The Autorité de la concurrence is a founding member of the International Competition Network (ICN), which brings together more than 140 competition authorities worldwide. The ICN aims to promote convergence between competition laws and policies and cooperation between its members, in order to improve the effectiveness of competition regulation internationally.

The Autorité de la concurrence is today launching a call for expressions of interest from experts in competition law and economics who are interested in becoming non-governmental advisors (NGAs) and in contributing to the work of the ICN in 2024-2025 and 2025-2026, alongside the Autorité de la concurrence.

Call for expressions of interest
See the document (in French)