

“Cartels & Cie” now available in English!

Published on September 22, 2026

Following the success of the first two seasons of its podcast “Cartels & Cie”, the Autorité de la concurrence is pleased to announce the launch of an English-language version.

Across eight episodes, the series takes listeners behind the scenes of three landmark cartel investigations by the Autorité in key sectors of the French economy: laundry detergents, floor coverings and road signs.

Featuring first-hand accounts from the investigators at the Autorité, as well as public- and private-sector representatives with knowledge of the cartels, the series offers an inside look at how the investigations unfolded.

Originally produced in French, the podcast has been translated into English by the Autorité de la concurrence. All speakers are voiced by professional actors, and all names remain unchanged.
