

Failure to refund cancelled flights: no anticompetitive practices identified

Published on December 08, 2020

The Autorité de la concurrence rejects the complaint by travel agencies on the basis that there is no evidence of anticompetitive practices.

The Autorité's decision should not prejudice the compatibility of practices with European Regulation No. 261/2004 defining the rights of passengers in the event of flight cancellation.

PRESS RELEASE

of 8 December 2020

See the press release