

Several eyewear brands and manufacturers fined for imposing selling prices and restrictions on online sales

Published on July 23, 2021

---

Following dawn raids and a report by the Directorate General for Competition Policy, Consumer Affairs and Fraud Control (DGCCRF), the Autorité de la concurrence has fined several companies active in the sunglasses and glasses frames sector for limiting the freedom of opticians to set prices and/or prohibiting selling their products online

The companies involved are the following:

Practices sanctioned
Companies	Limitation of opticians' pricing freedom	Ban on online sales
Luxottica	Yes	Yes
LVMH	Yes	Yes
Chanel		Yes
Logo	Yes

Practices sanctioned

Companies / Limitation of opticians' pricing freedom / Ban on online sales

Logo and LVMH wished to benefit from the no contest of objections procedure<sup>1</sup>. Logo was, moreover, placed in judicial liquidation back in 2016.

In total, the Autorité imposed the following penalties:

Companies	Sanctions (in euros)
Luxottica	125 174 000
LVMH	500 000
Chanel	130 000
Logo	0
TOTAL	125 804 000

<sup>1</sup>The no contest of objections procedure allows a company which does not contest the objections notified to it to obtain a penalty reduction. This procedure has since been replaced by the settlement procedure.

PRESS RELEASE

of 22 July 2021

Read the press release