Isabelle de Silva's term as President of the Autorité de la concurrence ends on 13 October. Upon her departure, Isabelle de Silva assesses 5 years of experience and outlines the future prospects of the institution.

« Competition is not the solution to all ills, but it is the guarantee of a dynamic economy, which breathes and makes room for new entrants, who bring the wind of innovation. As the post-Covid-19 recovery starts to take shape, more than ever, the French economy needs competition and an
