The Autorité de la concurrence publishes a new study on the leniency programme

Published on January 09, 2026

The Autorité de la concurrence is today publishing its third study on the leniency programme, drawing on insights gathered from lawyers specialising in competition law.

The study provided the Autorité with a clearer understanding of the experiences of practitioners involved in the application of the leniency programme and offered a foundation for considering potential enhancements to the programme, where appropriate.
