HOW CAN PROFESSIONAL BODIES AVOID ANTITRUST RISKS?

- Encourage members to avoid contracting with a particular operator.

Dos

DOs & DON’TS

3 EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION

DOS

- In the event of the disclosure of commercially sensitive information by a member during a meeting: intervene to stop the communication, ask participants to leave the meeting and report the behaviour to competition authorities.

DON’TS

- Facilitate or allow the exchange of individualised data statistics, whether contemporary or historical, relating to prices, market shares or any other strategically important information.
- Facilitate or allow exchanges of business results for the current month or the previous month.
- Facilitate or allow exchanges in the form of round table discussions on commercially sensitive information (especially if this is not on the meeting agenda).

---

(1) See, for example, the commitments made by the French Federation of Metal Distributors (Fédération Française des Distributeurs des Métaux) in the context of Decision 08-D-32, under which the latter set up a system to produce sound recordings of meetings so that the minutes could be as accurate as possible.
