Official Release Schedule: Announcement, Pre-orders, On-sale Date

The iPhone 17 series — including iPhone 17, iPhone 17 Pro, and iPhone 17 Pro Max — was officially unveiled on Tuesday, September 9, 2025. That date marked the public announcement of the new models.

Pre-orders for the iPhone 17 Pro began on Friday, September 12, 2025 at 5 a.m. Pacific Time (US).

Retail availability — the date when consumers could actually receive or purchase the iPhone 17 Pro — started on Friday, September 19, 2025. From that day on, the phone is available in stores and via official sales channels in many countries.

What the Launch Means: iPhone 17 Pro Is Already Out

As of now, the iPhone 17 Pro is already launched and available. According to trusted sources tracking Apple's release schedule, this means that any buyer interested in the 17 Pro can already order or pick it up — no more waiting for a future release window.

It also means that rumors about "when it will release" belong to the past: the launch has occurred, and the device is now a current-generation Apple flagship.

Key Features and What Changed with iPhone 17 Pro

The iPhone 17 Pro introduces several noteworthy upgrades compared to previous iPhone generations. Among the main improvements:

- New chipset: iPhone 17 Pro is powered by the chip — delivering better performance and efficiency.
- Refined body design: the build reportedly uses a mix of aluminum and glass and moves away from the titanium frame used in some past Pro models.
- Updated camera system: improved lenses and likely a new arrangement of the camera bump (camera plateau) for better photo/video quality.
- Enhanced durability and display: scratch-resistant glass, improved build quality, and overall better protection for the device.

Given these upgrades, the iPhone 17 Pro is positioned as a major Pro-level release — more than just a yearly "tweak," but a significant evolution for Apple's flagship line.

Should You Buy Now — or Wait for Next Model?

Since the iPhone 17 Pro is already on sale, now is a reasonable time to buy if you want a cutting-edge iPhone with long-term software support. Sources note that Apple is unlikely to release a new model immediately: the next flagship after iPhone 17 Pro is expected in **September 2026**.

If you don't urgently need a phone, waiting might make sense — especially if you anticipate possible price drops around major sale seasons, or upcoming offers on iPhone 17 Pro once supply stabilizes. On the other hand, if performance, newer features, and future-proofing matter to you now — iPhone 17 Pro already delivers on those.

What This Means for Global Buyers (Including Markets Like Thailand)

The release schedule that began September 12 (pre-orders) and September 19 (sales) applied to many countries worldwide. According to Apple, "more than 63 countries and regions" were included in the first wave — and also regions in Asia, which likely covers Thailand.

In global markets, buyers already have access to full storage options, including base 256 GB, and high-end variants with 512 GB and 1 TB.

So if you live outside the US — for example in Thailand — there's a high chance that iPhone 17 Pro is already or soon will be available locally via authorized retailers or resellers. It's worth checking official Apple channels or trusted local vendors for details on when it hits stores near you.
